The FEMIP Internship Programme

Are you a recent graduate? Are you looking for work experience at the European Investment Bank (EIB), the European Union’s financing institution? If so, you may be interested in the FEMIP Internship Programme.

The FEMIP Internship Programme, funded by the FEMIP Trust Fund, is open to students who are nationals of the Mediterranean partner countries (Algeria, Egypt, Gaza/West Bank, Israel, Jordan, Lebanon, Morocco, Syria, Tunisia and Turkey). The goal of the Programme is to offer successful candidates an opportunity to improve their skills as well as the experience of working in a multicultural international environment.

To be eligible for the Internship Programme, candidates must have a degree from or be in the final year of a course at an institute of higher education. Successful candidates will have enrolled on a postgraduate study programme (master’s degree or doctorate) and already have some work experience.

Who are we looking for?

The EIB seeks talented young individuals who wish to contribute towards improving people’s lives by promoting economic and social progress in the Mediterranean partner countries. This Programme seeks candidates specialising in a field relevant to international investment and development banking, such as finance (in particular project finance, SME financing, credit and risk analysis) or economics (micro/macroeconomics, development, statistics, job market analysis), as well as the environment, engineering (ports, roads, energy, etc.) or urban planning.

Are you eligible?

All candidates who wish to be considered for the FEMIP Internship Programme must meet the following criteria:
- be a national of a Mediterranean partner country;
- be proficient in English or French and have a working knowledge of the other language;
- hold a degree from a Mediterranean partner country;
- have demonstrated an ability to conduct analytical work, to exercise good judgment and to work as part of a team;
- have limited work experience (usually no more than two years).

What are we offering?

We offer an opportunity for professional development and global experience in an international environment, with wide exposure to the EIB’s various business activities.

A competitive remuneration package is provided for all interns, including a monthly stipend, insurance and travel costs. Interns will be responsible for their own accommodation costs.

Each successful candidate commits to a minimum of three months and a maximum of 12 months in the Programme, to be spent at the EIB Headquarters in Luxembourg or at one of the External Offices. Candidates can only apply for a position in a country of which they are not a resident/national.

How to apply?

Interested candidates must submit their applications online at www.eib.org/jobs. Only those identified for an assignment will be contacted to discuss their application and availability. Candidates are selected by a panel and there is keen competition for places. The application period for the Programme is 17 October to 30 November 2011.

Incomplete applications or those submitted after the deadline will not be considered.
